

Inspirational Speaker Meagan O’Nan’s Introduction

Meagan hates long introductions; she understands your attendees want to know what she will do for them. They can learn more about Meagan from your program.

So let me sum her up in less than 50 words.

She is...

...an award-winning author.

...endorsed by Desmond Tutu after hearing her talk on forgiveness.

...a content writer for Forbes.

...passionate about creating connections through storytelling.

...a collegiate two-sport athlete and National Strength and Conditioning All-American.

...a significant voice for the LGBTQ community in Mississippi.

... and a World-class Speaker.

She educates leaders, executive teams, and individuals on how to make deeper connections by sharing their stories through the art of vulnerable storytelling.

Bottom line:

...Imagine living life to your fullest.

...What would you do differently?

...If you could frame your story in a way to uncover your own moments of transformation, how would it change the impact you would have on those around you?

Get ready to dig deeper and learn how to get good with making an impact on the world.

Put your hands together for MEAGAN O’NAN!!
